How Pampered Pet Dogs Are Doctored.

"Oh! Doctor, I hope von will do all you can to cure poor little Prince, for it he should die I don't know how I would get along without him." Such was the pitiful appeal a reporter heard an aristocratic young lady from West Walnut street make to a veterinary surgeon, and as the news gatherer looked on in astonishment the apparently worried young creature gathered up an ngly, peevish pug dog in her arms, and, after having carefully wrapped a rug around the erabbed can ne, she sprang numbly into her carriage and was driven

"Do you have many such callers?" inquired the reporter.

"Inverage ten a day," replied the Doc.or: "for I have made the d senses of the dog a specialty, and have built an extensive practice among the wealthy classes, as well as those of limited m an , who own valuable animals. That young lady who passed out and as you entered pro e ses to be much concerned about that pag she had, in her arms. As for that master, I might say all the ladics are worried more or less respecting the health of their pets when they call here, and many of them are really sincere in their sorrow. Well, that dog I was speaking of is suffering with the distemper, and its fair owner is any ous to: me to rid he pet of the d sease I will visit her home to morrow and prescribe for l'rince, as she ealls h m, and will continue my visits every day for about a week or ten days. by which time I expect Prince will have recovered."

"How about the remnneration?" interjected his I stener.

"Ah, that's the best part of it," laughingly responded the dog surgeon. "It's much more lucrative than attending to sick horses. I am rarely asked about my terms until my dimb patient has either re-overed or ded. My chistomers are usually rich ladies, whose pet dogs seem to be as dear to them as children. Consequently they are willing to pay well for the treatment I give. I o'ten I'nd it difficult to get such peopile to comply with my orders. Distemper earries off more llogs than any other disease. When I have such a case I always g ve explicit instruction to all low the su ever plenty of fresh a'r. Frequently I discover the dog wrapped in blankets lying near a tire, which is the worst thing that could be done under the circumstan es. His mistress unhesitat ngly declares when I exposulate with per that she ould not bear to have her darling remain antdoors, when it was so ple sant to have him inside near her, where she could nurse him. Sometimes the an mal dies, and one would some of these brown-stone mansions. Nearly as much sorrow is manifested as it a human being had died. When a large, noble, well-bred animal is carried off I never wonder at the sorrow expressed by a family; but I can't help getting disgn ted when I see such a rumpus raised over the death of an ugiv, cross grained, ill-bred png, whose presence in this world is as yet unaccounte l for in my mind, for I confess I have failed to discover of what use he is to anybody. But the owners of this species earry on worse than those who have valuable mastiffs or froliesome little terriers siek. It happens oceasionnlly that I am called up to attend a pet dog whose mistress is desirons of proclaiming to the world that she was billiged to secure the services of a regular veterinary surgeon. Well, I have no objection to this feeling taking a deep root, as it w.ll be good for the dog doctors.

Respecting the diseases that afflict this biller of the bride lieution, I can 'sav'thit they 'ste 'as 'many, 'as 'variou. and at the same time very much allied with the ill of humanity. One of the principle causes of sickness is over 'ending. Pampered dogs that are fed e ntinualt: on neats and other rich tool ocasion more trouble than the ming curs who sconr around the streets for a meal. Many pups are killed by excessive teeding at ne. Plain, wholesome and nutritions food is sufficient; and if this were adhered to there would beliss sickness among dogs. Distemper is as fatal to dogs as consumption is to the human family. It is a general entarrhal disorder of three different stares. It's not only cruel, but insane for people to stick a piece of cohbler's wax on the nose of the animal, as it only irritates the disease. No meat should be allowed the dog when sufering from this disease. A well-hred dog is more npt to de than a steet eur, as the latte is more hardened and better able to w thstand the a niction. Pnenmonia, plenr.sy, bronch tis, laryngitis, influenza, t. Vitus dance, small-pox, constipation, be nin and colic are a few of the diseases. I am often cailed upon to cure. Consumption infrequently occur luttammation of the lungs is on te a common thing, as it is caused by men kickling their dags in the ribs." -Paila telphia Cor. Chicago Tribune.

"That depends entirely on Judge Brown. If he asks ion them I will send them—more than he asks for. If he wonts 1,500 he will get 2,000."

"What companies will go, Governor?"

"The same ones that went before, and as many others as are necessary. All will be under the command of Maj. Alien in preference to any other officer. He is indicious, and at the same time the people up there know that he will shoot if they interfere."

"Do you anticipate any trouble?" was asked.

"No, I do not; I expect to send so many men that there can't be any. I do not intend to put up with any mob spirit, and an attempt of that kind will be nipped in the bud. There will be no temporizing. I can assure you," and the Governor grasped his cane more firmly, as he passed down the street. gratitude and devotion. He says the Newl and Craft trial is angrily discussed in every household, and both men kiid wemen are excessively bitter in their remarks. Everybody seems to have arms, and many guns which had been unused have been cleaned and put in repair. The Scientific American is quoted as saying that "copal varnish applied to the soles of shoes, and repeated as it dries until the pores are filled and the surface shines liked polished mahogany, will make the soles water-proof, and last as long as the uppers." One of the best things we know forfarm boots, is an outer sole or tap, of wood, thoroughly dried, soaked in linseed oil and screwed to the hottom of the boot. THE Carrollton, (Ky.) Democrat says:

Things begin to took truly business like at R. H. Stanton & Co.'s new planling mili. The heavy muchinery, which is the finest, most substantial, latest improved and most costly to be had, has been placed. The shafting and all other gear lave been arranged. The boiler and a fine sixty-five horse power engine, built by Smith, Meyers & Schnier, of Cincinatl, will be placed by February 1st, when it is proposed to start the planing mili, proper; but the firm will not be in condition to begin the manufacture of sash, doors and blinds until some time later, about fitteen other smaller machines having to be added for this purpose, which will be done with the smallest possible delay. Very few places can boast similar establishment as large as this one. It is a big thing for Carrollton; an institution of which she may may well be proud, being alike creditable to her enterprise and valuable to her business.

Trotting Circuit Arranged.

A meeting was held at Cincinnati, on the 16th inst., by prominent turfmen for the purpose of arranging a spring trotting circuit, Representatives of the various trotting associations of Ohio and Kentucky were present, the Maysville society being represented by Messrs. Geo. T. Simonds, L. S. Luttrell, J. D. Kehoe, S. S. Riley and J. C. Grove. Col. Hunt, of the Chester driving park association of Cinemnati, was elected chairman of the meeting and the following dates were agreed upon:

Mnysviile, Mny 22 to 25, Cincinnnti, Mny 29 to June 1. Dayton, June 5 to 8, Springfield, June 12 to 15, Columbus, June 19 to 22,

Toledo, Detroit, Jackson and East Saginaw will probably be added to the list in in the order named and possibly Louisville and Cleveland.

This arrangement gives a week to each association, beginning the races on Tuesday and closing friday, with only one day to each meeting for postponed races. Those not trotted on the last day of the week, owing to unvoidable postponement, will be declared off, following the rule that has always governed at spring eir-

It was also determined that the entries for the first three meetings close May 12 and DEPUTY MARSHAL JAMES LONG, of Rip-that a committee consisting of one represenley, while cleaning his pistol, a few days tutive from each association meet with the ago, accidentally wounded himself in the circuit secretary on the 10th of February to arrange other details. The meeting was harmonious, and the general impression prevailed of a highly successful inauguration of the spring trots.

CURIOSITIES CAPTURED.

A Wild Man and Woman in the Monntalus of New Mexico.

From the Denver Tribune.

Probably the greatest cariosity in the shape of a human being ever seen by Denver people is on exhibition at No. 300, Sixteenth street. The story of the wild man and the wild woman from the mountain fastness of the Pueblos is not entirely a myth. It is said these singular beings were captured in a cave near Los Crucis about two months ago by Captain Lovett, who has them in charge. Captain Lovett tells the strange story of their capture. For many months he had known of their existence and resolved to capture them. With a party of three others he discovered their hiding place in a cave. Relying upon his great physical strength, he entered the place with the intention of dragging the little people from their bed, when tle man ponneed upon him like a tiger. A desperate struggle ensued, and had not his comrades come quickly to his rescue. Captain Lovett would have been killed. So badly was he hart that he was confined two weeks to his hed. Though the man will not weigh more than 85 pounds, he is said to be a creature of giant strength. After this encounter it required the combined strength of the rest of the party to conquer the little giant. When found, both were naked and atterly devoid of intelligence. Though they could communicate with each other in a gutteral chatter resembling that of the monkey, there was not an articulation that in any wise assimilated a word in any language on earth.

A few days ago they were brought to Denver, and last night placed on exhibition at the place named. They seem to be afterly devoid of sense, but have become tractable by constant association with their keeper. They have the celer of the Indian, and both are follows in appearance. Whether the story of their wild life be true or not, they are idiots, and probably belong to the Pueblo tribe.

USEFUL AND SUGGESTIVE.

-To make steak tender, lay it on a large tlat dish in a mixture of three tablespoonfuls of salad oil and one of vinegar, and let it remain at least balf an hour on each side. This will make the toughest steak tender when cooked. - Chicago News.

-To make a mutton-pie, take the chops from the fore-quarter, and season highly with pepper and salt, and put into a dish with alternate lavers of pared and sliced apples, and sprinkle over the top a little chopped onion. Put a crust over the top and bake for half an hour in a hot oven. - E counge.

-Coffee-grounds, make a highly successful filling for a pure shou. They must be dried perfectly be ore using. Put them in a bag and hang behind the kitchen stave till you ha e e ough that are dry to till the cushion. They do not gather moisture and consequently do not rust the needle. - N. Y. 10 t.

-Common fishing cord is used now for coarse crochet instead of macraine lace. It is less clum y to wo k with and equally effection. Crecincted with large needles and left with heavy tringe, it serves admi a dy as borde ing for little tables to ered with cloth or plush. Hand-bags are also made of it. -Detroit Post.

-To protect the ironing board from dust, take two paper our sac s, ent the bottom of from one, and passe this one to the top of the other to make the required length; when done slip this over the board. The outer covering of the board need not be taken of after nsing, if this care is taken, and ninch time is saved.

-Where potatoes are stored in pits, a wisp of straw two or three inches in diameter, extending from the bottom of the heap to the open air, will afford the necessary ventilation. A six or eight inch drain tile, or wooden inbe filled with straw, will answer a still better purpose. To prevent the entrance of water, a bunch of hay or straw may be placed over the top. - Farm and Fire-

-Bee-keepers are reaching the conclusion that to seeme the best results they must cultivate honey-plants. Al- day of each month. sike clover is said to be equal to white clover. Buckwheat, basswood, the blackberry and raspherry are all recommended for bee food. Catnip, motherwort, rape, mustards, sweet clover and Rocky Mountain bee-plant are mentioned to be sown in waste places. -Chicago Tribune.

-Potatoes and eggs cooked together ninke a palatuble dish. l'eel some boiled Irish potatoes, and when perfectly cold cut up in small pie es about the size of a bean, and season with salt and pepper. For a quart of potatoes use the yelks of six eggs and the whites of three benten well together. Melt some butter in a frying pan and put in the potatoes, and when quite hot stir in the eggs. Season and serve hot .-- Chicago News.

-Tree Planting: After the young tree is set so that the lowest llmb is on the southwest side, and the tree is in lined about five degrees in the same direction, make a mound about the tree to a height of eighteen inches, and back the soil firmly about the stem of the tree. This will prevent the m'ce from gnawing the trunks, or if gardled by rabbits, enough will remain unharmed below the ground to produce a strong shoot, which will form a vigorous tree. The mound is a very good substitute for a stake until leveled down in the spring. - Farm and Fireside.

A Highly-prized Jewel.

She entered a jewelry store and said she wanted a ring set with consistency. A what-ency?" asked the perplexed young unit, who was trying to master the art of looking into the bowels of a witch through a in croscope, 'puniching one of its cog-wheels with his penknife, and clining two dol has for the job. I want, exchalmed the young lady, "a ring set with a jewel called eunsistency. I have o'ten read about Fuch a gem, but never "saw die."
